

From home looms and those over seas

have been drawn the fabrics from our Autumn Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes. They are made from fine woolens, and not "mercerized cottons" that lose their shape in a week. Rich browns, warm greys and solid colors in every variety of mixture and tone meet the eye. The overcoats include, for early wear, the tan covert top coat and the regular Fall overcoat, for anywhere and any time a conservative but exceedingly stylish piece of workmanship.

We are proud to show you this label.

BIG BLACKMAIL GRIST FOR TERRITORIAL MILL

District Attorney Breckons Will Follow Up Unholy Gang of Extortioners Who Levy Tribute on Japanese Lawbreakers.

There is likely to be a formidable grist of cases of blackmail to be carried to the Territorial mill of justice from the wholesale prosecution of Japanese in the Federal court for breaking and conspiracy to break United States laws enacted to conserve civilization and social morality.

Blackmailing in connection with the Federal crusade against Japanese woman slavery and kindred lawlessness has become almost as rife as were those offenses at the time that District Attorney Breckons started the irrepressible campaign that has congested the criminal calendar of the United States District Court for two or three terms, including the present one.

It appears that from the beginning, with increasing boldness, the Japanese element that initiated the saturnalia of immoral and unlawful practices now in course of suppression has been levying blackmail upon the miserable wretches cowering to escape the clutches of American justice.

Mr. Breckons has secured a considerable list of these moral hyenas. As the United States law does not cover their cases, the District Attorney will take steps to have them prosecuted in the Territorial courts under the local statutes.

The methods of the blackmailers are quite raw but still effective with the ignorant people on which the game is played. Finding that a man was spotted by the Federal authorities for, say, peonage or woman slavery, the thug would approach the terror-stricken person and mention the threatened danger of his prosecution. The chances were that the victim would admit his fears, when the villain would tell him not to fear. Only give him $50 or $60 and he would make it all right for the victim with the District Attorney.

In the cases of common members of the "Ten Dollar Club"—the organization of conspirators to defeat the laws—the grafters would be content to extort loans of $10 apiece from them by devices similar to those employed with the heavier operators in criminality. From the large number of these minor victims, the harvest of blackmail from them must be abundant.

THINGS TO BE PLEASED WITH IN HONOLULU

Editor Advertiser: We all love Honolulu, and yet—we are not half as appreciative of some of the good things as we might be. On the principle that we first endure, then pity, and then fall on the neck of vice, we grow accustomed to every-day blessings and cease to be mindful.

The other day, in talking with a lady who had just returned from an extended tour on the mainland, the question of selfishness came up. "Don't talk about selfishness," she put in, "you just go to the mainland—the gentlemen all wear their hats in the elevators, in the presence of ladies, and they rarely give up their seats to ladies on the street cars. Some of them wouldn't budge for their own grandmothers. Coming from Honolulu, it is very noticeable. And now, as our old friend Mr. Dooley says, 'There y'are.'"

How often do ladies in Honolulu have to stand in a street car while the men sit in the seats—unless perhaps at the hands of a Pake, and in those instances the conductors usually come to the rescue and give the heathen a salutary lesson in etiquette. With rare exceptions, women had rather tired mankind did not give up their seats in a body when they enter a crowded car. It is too bad when a man, returning home from a fatiguing day in business, will stand, while a woman, out on a pleasure expedition, serenely occupies his seat, but that is what men in Honolulu do. How many men are there who do not remove their sky pieces in the elevator when there are any of the gentler sex present. This is a mooted question, but putting out of the question the right or the wrong of it, the few who keep their hats on always look uncomfortable, and as if they wish't they hadn't.

It must be a source of disappointment to go to the coast and find that the last little ragged remnant of chivalry has folded its tent and performed the Arab act. It is a favorite club used by many, in combatting the idea of vanishing chivalry, that the latter day women are usurping the places of men in business, and therefore do not deserve the delicate attentions they once enjoyed from the brusque business man, and incidentally the Lotharios. This is a miserable, sorry excuse for men ceasing to be polite and considerate. It is the straw that caved in the spinal column of the dromedary. I once heard of a man who purchased a light ax, because the wife of his bosom chopped her own wood.

We "Sandwich Islanders" are looked upon generally as being beyond the pale of civilization, behind the times so far we can never hope to catch up with the procession, "Jay," and all that. Let us devoutly hope that we shall remain all of these, and that our men folks continue to exercise the old time chivalrous respect toward woman that characterizes them now.

Another delightful aspect of Honolulu is the entire absence of saloons on the main street of the village. It were as well not to mention how many embroider the edges of the streets adjacent, but let us stop in our mad career and be thankful for small blessings—even though we may have an eye of expectancy on the large ones. Can you not recall, in cities on the coast, both large and small, where in going up the main street on your initial visit, your impression is as of one vast beer saloon? About every other door is a swinging one, and the sounds of revelry by day and by night, and smells of something worse, greet the ears and nose of the passerby. Surely the tourist must note this next to angelic state of affairs on a head lei buying expedition up Fort street.

For all of which, let us be duly grateful.

ANNETTE R. LOHR.
Honolulu, Oct. 19, 1904.

SALE OF KAMALO ON MONDAY NEXT

An important event pertaining to the sugar industry will take place on Monday next at Will E. Fisher's salesroom, when the entire property of the hitherto ill-fated Kamalo Sugar Co., situated on Molokai, will be brought to the block by order of David Dayton, assignee. Nobody can deny the statement in the advertisement, viz: "This property is admirably situated for a sugar plantation or stock ranch. There is an abundance of water."

It is freely admitted among persons qualified to speak on the subject that Kamalo, as a sugar plantation, would afford good returns upon a reasonable investment.

OUT AGAINST THE BEAR-HUG

BALTIMORE, October 8.—A society for reforming the present styles of dancing has been organized here by the leading dancing masters of the city.

"We propose," they announce, "to abolish this bear-hug fashion of dancing. We strictly oppose half-time dancing and romping. We won't approve of dancing a sort of two-steps to the waltz and shall teach our classes to dance to the music."

IT IS DANGEROUS to neglect a cold. Pneumonia is one of the most dangerous and fatal diseases. It always results from a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will quickly cure a cold and perhaps prevent an attack of pneumonia. It is in fact made especially for that ailment and has become famous for its cures over a large part of the civilized world. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. Can you afford to neglect your cold when so reliable a remedy can be had for a trifle? For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., Agents for Hawaii.
